

PROCESSES FOR TREATING IRON-CONTAINING WASTE STREAMS

ABSTRACT OF THE INVENTION

5

Processes for treating iron containing waste streams are provided. According to these processes, metal-containing compounds, particularly iron oxides are produced. These methods may, for example, be used in the processing of the waste streams from the chlorination of titanium-bearing raw materials and involve the use of certain combinations of neutralization and precipitation steps.

C:\NrPortb\KSDOCS\SCOTT2930_1.DOC